

International Studies Seminar Series

© One Line Man, fotolia.com

Summer Term 2024

Mondays, 11:45-13:00; E402

April 15 th	Testing postfuncionalist theory: Collective identities, political entrepreneurs and opt outs in the European Union Theresa Kuhn (University of Amsterdam) Joint Event with CPPE	June 10 th	The future of welfare provision in the EU multilevel System - A glimpse into Belgium Ann-Kathrin Reinl (European University Institute)
April 22 nd	Spontaneous Contact and Social Resilience Following Eruption of Interethnic Violence in Ethnically Mixed Settings Dan Miodownik (The Hebrew University of Jerusalem)	June 24 th	The Importance of UN Peacekeeping Mission Orientation and Personnel for Environmental Quality Tobias Böhmelt (University of Essex)
May 6 th	Information Seeking Behavior in Censored Online Environments Philipp Lutscher (University of Oslo)	July 8 th	The Local Politics of Border Control: Transnational Communities and Resistance Jeffrey Coltman-Cormier (Rutgers University)

For further information please sign up on our email-list :

– mailman.uni-konstanz.de/mailman/listinfo/intstudies

See also: polver.uni.kn/fachbereich/aktuelles/veranstaltungen/kolloquium-international-studies

The series brings together scholars and students interested in current research on international politics (including conflict, development, international political economy, international organizations, and European integration).